

A NEW RECORD IN AVIATION

Silas Christofferson, unlicensed aviator, starting for Vancouver, Wash., from the roof of the Multnomah hotel in Portland, Oregon. This established a new world's record, it being the first time in the history of aviation that such a feat has been accomplished. 50,000 people witnessed the start. The time for the 8 mile flight was 12 minutes. As usual, the moving picture machine was on the job.

FLATTERY

One must be a genius to be a successful barber. One is reminded of the tonsorial artist who operated in the same village for fifty years, and never made a mistake. In his early days, a handsome boy got into his chair.

"Shave, sir?" asked the barber.

"You flatter me," laughed the youth. "You flatter me. No, I can only use a hair cut."

Years passed. In fact, thirty years did it. The same man came to the same barber.

"Hair cut, sir?" asked the barber.

"You flatter me!" sighed the man. "No—only a shave."

Teacher—Heat ascends and cold descends. Can you tell me why?

Jimmy—I don't believe it's so.

Teacher—Why?

Jimmy—I got a cold id by head dis bordig a'd the doctor says it's 'cause I got my feet wet yesterday.
